

McConachie Stedman welcomes new partner Sam Dean

Sam will manage the Advanced Business Solutions division, providing advice to small-medium size businesses on how to grow by increasing profits, managing cashflow, protecting their assets and planning for the future.

McConachie Stedman has been offering these services in an adhoc fashion for many years and with Sam coming on board is now in a position to provide these services using formal processes.

The division offers specialised services including independent business valuations, business life plans and succession plans.

Sam comes to McConachie Stedman with more than 18 years' experience in taxation and business services in Brisbane, Longreach and the past 10 years in Toowoomba, the last two at McConachie Stedman. While on maternity leave from accounting having her two sons, Cameron and Zac, she had hands' on experience setting up and running a successful tree services business with her husband, Warren.

The Advanced Business Solutions division will tie in with McConachie Stedman's existing strong Taxation, Superannuation, Audit and Financial Planning divisions to offer a complete range of services to our clients, further enhancing McConachie Stedman's One Stop Shop.
